D.O. No. 03/02/2023-CBC

Dear Madam/Sir,

Happy Republic Day!

Governments around the world are building capacity of their functionaries to keep up with the complexities of public administration. One of these key complexities is on how to leverage the opportunities and mitigate challenges of emerging technologies.

2. The adoption of technology can help accelerate government efforts in modernizing the civil service and its service delivery. In recent example the JAM trinity (Jan Dhan Yojana, Aadhaar and Mobile number) has shown that technology can be powerful tool for government service delivery. For Civil servants the knowledge of key emerging technologies, and how to leverage them for governance, can allow many such transformational initiatives. The course on Emerging Technologies by Capacity Building Commission (CBC) has been designed to address the same. CBC has partnered with Wadhvani Institute of Technology Policy (WITP) and Indian Institute of Public Administration (IIPA) to deliver the course at various levels.

Level	Duration	Delivery

2. The 2-days level 2 program is delivered in two channels:

- a. In IIPA, New Delhi: If department wants to nominate up to 10 participants.
- b. In Department or its associated Training institute by WITP: if department has more than 30 participants.

ASK FROM DEPARTMENT:

1. Nominate SPOC with whom program team can co-ordinate
2. Nominate participants for the level 2 courses (Group A and B officials)
 - a. If participants are less than 10, program will be delivered in IIPA
 - b. For 10-30 participants, batch would be merged with other departments
 - c. For more than 30 participants, the program can be hosted in department or its training institute
3. Please share nomination over email to himansu.pandey@nic.in
